“How do we show up for each other? Have we and our people met before?” In Shaatranga, a work that intersects contemporary Indian dance with a philosophy of social justice, Guggenheim award-winning choreographer Ananya Chatterjea explores relationships among global south communities linked by Indian Ocean denim and indigo trade routes that pre-existed colonization and slavery.

Loree Dance Theater
70 Lipman Drive, New Brunswick

Public $15 / Seniors, Rutgers Alumni and Employees $10 / Students $5

Parking regulations have changed. Visit masongross.rutgers.edu/parking for details.

Tickets: 848-932-7511

---

Ananya Dance Theatre’s residency at Rutgers University is made possible through the ArtsCONNECT program of Mid-Atlantic Arts Foundation with support from the National Endowment for the Arts.

Co-sponsorship is provided by the following partners from across Rutgers University: the Cultural Center Collaborative, AMESALL, Africana Studies, the Rutgers Global Event Co-Sponsorship program, the South Asian Studies Program, The Collaborative Center for Community-Based Research and Service, the Department of Women’s and Gender Studies, and the Office of the Senior Vice President for Academic Affairs.